

MCA Youth Program

The MCA Youth Program is free to anyone 17 and under with a MCA sponsoring member. The sponsor does not need to be a family member.

The membership is good for one year and will need renewed just like any other membership.

At the end of the year membership when the child has turned 18 years old, if the child would like to remain a member of MCA, he/she should sign up as a member at the tier level of their choice.

How to sign up a youth member for MCA:

Youth Members can be signed up by sending a letter via mail to the MCA home office.

Please include child's name, address, phone, email and date of birth. You should include the name and membership number of the sponsoring MCA member as well.

We are in the process of developing more current youth membership applications. If you have some of the old applications, you can continue to use them. Please remember to add the date of birth to the information.

The current sponsor of MCA's Youth Program is Ford's Driving Skills for Life (DSFL) program.

DSFL is a free non-profit program supported by Ford to teach young drivers all types of safety skills. It is a step beyond a standard driver's education program.

Please have your youth members and youth organizers go to their website and register. It will ask if you belong to or heard about the program from one of the organizations they are affiliated with. Please be sure to have all members select Mustang Club of America.

There are many resources on the website to help you develop a youth program in your regional club. The DSFL website is an excellent resource if you work with any high schools to host your annual car show.

DSFL will be reviewing our national show schedules each year to determine if they can hold a simultaneous youth driving event during the timeframe of the show. If so, the MCA youth committee will work with DSFL to determine if we can assist with transporting students to that location from host hotels and show sites. This will not create any additional work on the host club unless they have a youth committee and would like to be further involved.

If your regional club has a robust youth group already and would like DSFL to hold a driving event in your local area, there is a place on their website allowing those who have registered to request information about DSFL events in their area. They use these requests to identify areas of greater interest.
