

Wayne Campbell

Co-Founder

- Enthusiast for 25+ years
 - First Car was 1968 mustang
- Professional in Information Technology
 - Want to improve our hobby

Change is the law of life. And those who look only to the past or present are certain to miss the future.

- John F. Kennedy

1965 Mustang

Padded visors, Seat Belts
Electric Wiper, Side Mirrors

V8 289 HIPO
0-60 = 7.6 seconds

2015 Mustang

Padded visors, Seat Belts, Electric Wiper
Side Mirrors, Auto delay off headlamps
Child seat anchors, Dual front side-mounted airbags
Dusk sensing headlamps, Engine immobilizer
Front head airbags, Post-collision safety system
Remote anti-theft alarm system, Stability control
Tire pressure monitoring, Traction control
Xenon high intensity discharge headlamp
4-wheel ABS, Ventilated front disc / solid rear disc brakes, Reverse Park Assist

I4 Ecoboost
0-60 = 5.6 seconds

The Hobby Today

How Baby Boomers Created Today's Classic-Car Market—and How They Could Crash It

For Sale by Boomer: Hagerty's Rob Sass examines the future of the collector-car industry.

“Car collecting as a pastime won’t fade away—horses still enjoy an enthusiastic following more than 100 years after being displaced by the car. But the hobby will certainly evolve. The internet continues to transform it, ameliorating the scarcity of parts, bringing owners together to share information, and increasing the supply of cars. Many of the old rules about what defines a collector car and the relative values of different types are likely to be challenged. ”

February 2014

Rob Sass

Car and Driver Magazine

WHERE AUTOMOTIVE ENTHUSIASTS GATHER

The Path Ahead

MCA uniquely positioned to be ahead of the curve

- Leadership saw something that would reduce costs
- The ability to streamline show process
- The ability provide convenience to members
- The ability to ease the burden on volunteers
- The ability to work “without borders” geographically
- The ability to work anytime – when personal time permits
- Provide an “even playing field” for any club wanting to host shows

Vision For The Future

- Motosho has provided a world class software platform
- MCA has partnered to provide software access
- The internet and mobile make it easy to connect
- Your relationship with MCA means you have access to the first such system ever developed in our industry

WHERE AUTOMOTIVE ENTHUSIASTS GATHER

Conclusion

Coming together is a beginning; keeping together is progress; working together is success.

- Henry Ford